TOOTIE

TOOTIE (Elmer A. Claar) This charming beauty won applause from all who saw it in Mr. Claar's garden last summer, and received the JUNIOR CITATION AWARD. Very similar in coloring to Evelyn Claar, it's parent, but a clearer pink coloring with not so much orchid in it. The lovely wide petals of soft pink with a faint blueish undertone have a satin-like finish. The flowers are of medium size, in perfect proportion to the low-growing stem and foliage. An ideal plant for the foreground. TOOTIE is the affectionate nickname of Mr. Claar's little granddaughter, Susan Treadwell. Her little sister couldn't say Susan, but began calling Susan "Tootie" - and so as often happens, the name "stuck", so Mr. Claar selected his most beautiful pink seedling to name for his granddaughter - the granddaughter of the real Evelyn Claar, (Mrs. Claar) as the daylily TOOTIE is the child of daylily EVELYN CLAAR.

What's NEW For 1954

BESS ROSS (Elmer A. Claar) Many visitors to Mr. Claar's garden may remember this as Seedling No. 50-02. A large, wide-open, brilliant red, this is the most vivid red I've ever seen in a daylily. The wide petals and sepals are beautifully formed and recurved - slightly frilled. The vivid red coloring is very even over the entire flower extending into the throat of brilliant yellow, with a chartreuse green cup at the base of the bloom. Mr. Claar wanted to honor our beloved Mrs. Merrill Ross, past president of the Hemerocallis Society, by naming a daylily for her. He asked her to select the one she considered most beautiful among his seedlings. I heartily agree with the selection "Miss Bess" made, for Bess Ross is bold and striking - really a knockout.

A lot of people are asking a lot of questions about daylilies, and one of the best books to give the answers is DAYLILIES by Ben Arthur Davis. It is a book gardeners have been waiting for a long time. It covers a bit of history, hybridizing, uses of daylilies in the garden, propagations, soils, general culture, and planting for continuous bloom. In fact, his new book packs all the information you can handle into one complete volume. It is a handbook for the amateur grower as well as the experienced specialist.

A true pink with round, full flowers evenly toned and of firm, smooth texture. The petals are wide, and both sepals and petals are recurved. The petals are slightly ruffled and the pink coloring goes deep down into the throat. Because of its delicate transparency, this color is difficult to catch on a color chart, but it seems to be nearer Azalea Pink (RHS). It has the same coloring, and looks as dewy and fresh at the end of a hot day as it does when the dew is actually upon it. It is a fine and vigorous grower when fed and left alone, but it does not like to be divided every year.

We had hoped to offer some plants of MARIE WOOD this year, but when people saw it blooming in Valdosta, we were cleaned out before we had even proof-read our catalog. We can take only reservations at this time.

MRS. B. F. BONNER (Russell) EM 42" 1.00

Very fine full flowered pale yellow of good form. A splendid addition to the pale yellow group.

MRS. HUGH JOHNSON (Russell) EM 34" 1.00
A.M. 1950

A prolific fiery red with a satin sheen. The wide petals and sepals are slightly reflexed and open full. Stands hottest sun and remains open in the evening.

NASHVILLE (Claar) M 36" 25.00

In the words of Mr. D. R. McKeithan, "Surely the finest banded yellow variety yet developed." The flowers are triangular in shape, opening entirely until they are almost flat, with a pinched effect at the tips. The substance is wonderfully smooth and heavy. A very contrasty band of orange red makes it quite a striking blossom. Completely sun and rain resistant. The sepals and petals are extremely wide, charmingly overlapped. The beauty of the flower is enhanced by the gracefully formed scapes and the fresh blue-green foliage.

WHERE TO PLANT - Daylilies will grow in either full sun or light shade, and in any part of the country. They do not require any special kind of soil, but will grow in lime or acid, clay or sandy. They will tolerate poor growing conditions, but respond amazingly when given a good loamy spot. Your daylilies will live and bloom in a poor location, but will astound you with their beauty if you give them a spot with plenty of humus, and feed them.

There's a world of difference in the size of plants - not only the size of the blooms, but in the growth habit. For instance, some blooming sized divisions look only little more than a few blades of grass, while other varieties are rank and enormous. It's a characteristic of the plant. August Pioneer, Brunette, Caprice, Gold Dust and Aureole are a few that are very small.

NEON (Wood) LM 30" 2.00

Very vivid and starlike with petals of Moroccan red and sepals of Florida Gold. Fairly low growing, and especially valuable because of its late blooming period.

NORMAN HAMILTON (McDade) LM 30" 1.00

ORANGE BEAUTY (H.P. Sass) A. M. 1950 3.00

The throat is green, banded gold at the top. Wide sepals and petals are of heavy substance. The petals are slightly ruffled and pencilled in gold at the very edge. Flowers are large and well spaced on sturdy stalks. (8-9 inches).

PAINTED LADY (Russell) M 36" A.M. 1950

PHOEBUS (Lester) LM 36" 2.00

PINK BOWKNOT (Taylor) E 42" H. M. 1952 10.00

WILBURTON, OKLA.

"The hemerocallis I ordered from you arrived and have been planted. Thank you for the fine way in which you filled my order, selecting lilies you thought would appeal to me most."
Mrs. H. M. P.

Did you ever see a daylily you wanted to eat? Well, I did!

It's BAILEY WALKER, a new, luscious looking cantaloupe-colored dream; Cool and frosted, yet warm-toned underneath, as proof that it's been sunkissed, just as the delicious Heart of Gold cantaloupes.

It is one of Mr. William T. Wood's creations, and I predict it will be as much in demand as Marie Wood, its parent. We hope to be able to offer it next year.

PIQUANTE (Nesmith) LM 40" 1.50

PLUM MIST (Claar) EM 40" H.M. 1952 4.00

PLUM MIST one of best for Midwest gardens. From a list compiled by Mr. George Lenington, past president of the Hemerocallis Society, PLUM MIST is among 30 plants which were considered "among the very best for Midwest gardens" by a group of ten people, living in five different states, to whom Mr. Lenington sent his questionnaires. Taken from an article in Mr. Ben Arthur Davis' very fine book on DAYLILIES.

How Late Are Your Lates?

If you want really late bloom, we highly recommend the McDade late varieties. They're not as big, beautiful and magnificent as the midseason performers, and the colors are not so exotic, but best of all, they're good performers at a time when there's little else in bloom.

Many of them have continuous bloom tendency. In localities where varieties have a tendency to repeat, many of those repeaters are dependent on a good season with sufficient rain in order to give a repeat performance. Not so the late varieties. When it comes time to bloom, they give a wonderful show regardless of weather conditions.

Do not judge your daylilies on one-year plants. Most varieties should be established at least three years before giving their maximum beauty in size, number of blooms, and good branching habit. Plant your daylily in good, well-worked soil, with some well balanced fertilizer or rotted manure added, then leave it alone, except at the beginning of the season, top dress with a sprinkling of well balanced fertilizer, also, do the same after blooming season. It is always good to add a compost mulch or well rotted manure late fall, but do not feed with a commercial fertilizer that is like a shot in the arm to the plant too late, otherwise, you will stimulate late growth, and the plant will not take the cold weather just ahead. To get the most out of your daylilies, do not always be dividing them when they are small clumps. If you buy an expensive variety, give it the best treatment you can possibly give it, and sit back and enjoy it and get your money's worth in the beauty of it. You will not see it at its very best until it is an established clump.

We should like to extend a cordial invitation to visit our nursery at any time that suits your convenience. Daylilies are at their height of bloom during June and July.

Signal Mountain is about 12 miles from Chattanooga. If you are coming from Chattanooga, get on U. S. Highway 27 North; follow it until you reach the intersection of U. S. 27 and Tennessee State Highway 8. Follow 8 up the mountain and about 6 miles farther along after you reach the top of the mountain, until you come to Fairmount Road - an asphalt road branching off to the right. Continue on Fairmount Road for about 1 mile until you come to a sign on the right hand side of the road directing you to PARRY NURSERIES. Turn right, as directed by the sign, and continue until you reach the greenhouse. Our telephone number is 88-2438, out of Chattanooga. If you are coming from the North, without going through Chattanooga, follow the above directions when you reach the intersection of U. S. 27 and State 8.

THINGS TO COME - You who saw ALAN, Mr. Claar's stunning brilliant red named for his son, in Mr. Claar's garden last summer, will be pleased to know that it will be available at some time in the future - we hope not too distant. You may remember that ALAN had everything to be desired in a red - large full flowers of fine form - brilliant, clear coloring - wonderful substance - and to make it completely perfect - a green throat! No wonder it received a JUNIOR CITATION in 1953!

Night Marauders

Enjoy Your Flowers In The Evening Hours

Nearly all nightblooming daylilies are delightfully fragrant, and can be most enjoyed if planted near your porch where you'll be sitting during summer evenings, or near the terrace, or even the picnic area where you'll be having barbeques and outdoor suppers. Most evening blooming daylilies do best in part shade, and most of them open during the late afternoon or evening and remain open during the next day.

RIVERMONT - Strictly a night-blooming variety. It closes its sleepy eyes early in the morning. The only dark night bloomer we know. The Velvety Garnet red petals have a luminous midstripe of yellow which broadens as it blends into the green throat. Sepals of yellow with an overcast of garnet on each side of the midrib. The sheen of the dark rich velvety petals make the broad midstripe stand out as if phosphorescent. Starshaped. 1.50

We're always being asked "What varieties stay open evenings? and What varieties bloom in the evenings?" It's all down in black and white for you in Mr. Ben Arthur Davis' book DAYLILIES. Get a copy, and see for yourself - then when you forget just which ones they are, get out your book again and refer to it. It's grand to have such a list available whenever you need it.

LET'S POPULARIZE DAYLILIES!

If you're looking for a really wonderful way to entertain your garden-minded friends, get Dr. Corliss' slides on DAYLILIES and show them. What an enjoyable evening that will be! If they're "old-time" gardeners, and know the older daylilies, ask Dr. Corliss to send you the newest creations - you'll love seeing them too! Show them to your garden club. There's nothing that makes people want flowers like seeing them - and let's get our friends and neighbors "day-lily minded".
